VOTE BY MAIL AND EARLY VOTING OPTIONS

Absentee By Mail

Any North Carolina registered voter may request, receive, and vote a mail-in absentee ballot in elections where absentee voting is permitted. Learn about the general election in 2024 at www.fcvotes.com. Registered voters in North Carolina must request an absentee ballot with an official N.C. Absentee Ballot Request Form. There are two ways to access and submit the form:

1. Online:

- "Option 1 – Request an Absentee Ballot" at the N.C. Absentee Ballot Portal.

2. On paper:

- 2024 N.C. Absentee Ballot Request Form in English (fillable PDF)
- 2024 N.C. Absentee Ballot Request Form in Spanish (download to come)
  - After completing, submit the form to your county board of elections or in person or by mail.

Track your absentee-by-mail ballot through the mail: Once you have requested your absentee ballot, you can track its status from printed to accepted by signing up online for status notifications through BallotTrax. BallotTrax will be available 30 days prior to each election in 2024.

Early Voting

During the early voting period, voters may cast a ballot at any early voting site in their county. This is different than Election Day, when registered voters must vote at their assigned polling place. During the early voting period, eligible individuals may also register to vote and vote at the same time.

When you check in to vote at an early voting site, you may update your name or address within the same county if necessary. Individuals who are not registered to vote in a county may register and immediately vote at that same site. This process is called "same-day registration." Find more information at Register in Person During Early Voting. Although same-day registration is available for voters during early voting, same-day registration is not available for most voters on Election Day.

Example of Prohibited Acts That Illustrate Prohibited Behavior During Elections

GUIDELINES FOR MEDIA AT POLLING PLACES

1- Conduct at Polling Places

-The term media generally describes people affiliated with a television, radio or newspaper outlet. News media have a right to report on matters of public interest, including elections.

-The Chief Judge is the only election official authorized to interact with the media. Please remember to identify yourselves with your credentials when interacting with election officials.

2- Buffer Zone

-Any interviews or election polls must be conducted at least 50 feet from the entrance of the polling place. However, news cameras may be positioned near the doorway of a voting enclosure to record only panoramic, wide-angle views of the voting room.

Photographers and videographers may not zoom in on ballots or voters. Media shall not block, interfere, obstruct, or disrupt the voting process, and shall not record any ballots or the tabulation of ballots. Photographing voters and poll workers is restricted so if a photo or recording includes voters and/or precinct officials, the media must obtain permission from the voters and/or precinct officials. Breaching and moving the designated buffer zone is not permitted.

-No person or group of persons shall hinder access, harass others, distribute campaign literature, place political advertising, solicit votes, or otherwise engage in election-related activities inside the voting place or within a buffer zone.

3- Closing and Unofficial Results

-After the polls close and all voters have left the enclosure, the media and public are allowed inside to observe the closing process but may not hinder operations of precinct officials.

-The Chief Judge may inform the media how many ballots have been cast at a precinct. However, media may not enter the voting enclosure to check the tabulator.

-Please do not ask officials for any opinions, guesses or predictions about the election. They may provide objective facts regarding the polling place but may not speculate on outcomes or turnout.

REPORTING ELECTION RESULTS

Early Votes Begin to Report

7:30pm

One-stop early votes and absentee by-mail votes that have been approved by the board of elections

Precinct Results Begin to Report

8:30pm

Precinct officials hand-deliver results to the county board of elections

After Election Night

Absentee ballots postmarked on or before Election Day and received by the county board of elections by the return deadline, as well as provisional votes, will be added to the results as they are approved by board during the canvass period after Election Night.

State Board, by a majority vote, may extend voting hours at a polling place if polls are delayed in opening for more than 15 minutes or are interrupted for more than 15 minutes. The Board may extend the closing time by an equal number of minutes.

AFTER ELECTION NIGHT

What is counted after Election Night?

Military or Overseas absentee ballots postmarked on or before Election Day and received by the county board of elections by the return deadline, as well as provisional votes, will be added to the results as they are approved by board during the canvass period after Election Night.

* The absentee ballot return deadline is now 7:30 p.m. Election Day, under Session Law 2023-140.

Why are ballots counted after Election Night?

Absentee by mail and Provisional ballots returned on Election Day must be processed and verified before they can be counted and added to the results. In North Carolina, counties have 10 days to process, verify, and count these ballots – this period is known as the Official Election Canvass.

In a countywide election, there could be thousands of ballots left to be counted after polls close. Results reporting can extend past 1:00 am as precincts deliver their results.

CANVASS: FINALIZING THE VOTE

Election Night

After polling places close at 7:30 PM on Election Day, all election results are secured and transported to be centrally compiled and posted at the Board of Elections, 201 North Chestnut Street Winston Salem, NC 27101. Election Night counts include ballots from precincts as well as One Stop Early Voting and Absentee by-Mail ballots received by Election Day.

Finalizing the Official Vote Tally (Canvass)

Results on election night are unofficial. Canvass is the official process of determining the votes have been counted and tabulated correctly, resulting in the authentication of the official election results.

For close elections, the canvass period is especially important. During this time, elections officials count absentee ballots that came in before the deadline and research provisional ballots to determine whether they should be counted.

In every county, the canvass meeting when the results are certified is 10 days after Election Day. Because elections thrive on transparency, the canvass meeting is open to the public. Unless the county board unanimously votes for another site, the meeting will be held at the county board of elections office, per N.C.G.S. § 163-182.5.

Before the canvass meeting, the board must ensure that the sample hand-to-eye audit count and any discretionary or mandatory recounts have been completed.

Additionally, county boards confirm all eligible ballots have been counted, including:

- Ballots that were unable to be read in the precinct (ballot jams, torn ballots, etc.)
- Absentee ballots
- Provisional ballots

At the meeting, the board will prepare and sign all relevant, permanent public documents. The county board will retain one copy; a copy will be filed with either the clerk of Superior Court or, in the case of municipal elections, with the municipal clerk; and a copy will be provided to the State Board of Elections.

Mandatory Hand-to-Eye Sample Audit

The sample audit count is a test to ensure voting equipment read the voter's choices accurately. It compares the machine counts with hand-to-eye counts conducted by elections officials in randomly selected voting sites. The sample audit count is open to the public and is completed before canvass. The day after the election, the State Board of Elections informs each county of their assigned contest and the two randomly selected samples (Election Day precinct, one-stop site, or absentee by mail ballots) to audit. For a presidential election, the contest audited is always the presidential contest. Selected ballots are hand-counted by a bipartisan team of elections officials.
